Bush's Son Arrested On Driving Charge

BIDDEFORD — George W. Bush, the son of CIA Director George Bush, was arrested Sept. 4 in Kennebunkport for operating under the influence of intoxicating liquor, according to Kennebunkport police.

Bush, 30, a resident of Midland, Texas, has filed a request in District Court here to have his case handled by mail, saying he would not be able to make a court appearance in Maine, according to the court complaint.

He was arrested by Kennebunkport police officer Calvin Bridges. The court has not yet acted on his case.
